ONE NEWS PAGE EXPANDS ITS CONTENT COVERAGE AHEAD OF RIO 2016

[Cityline - LONDON 28 July 2016]

Leading global news portal One News Page today introduces its dedicated Olympics section, helping its readers discover the most relevant media sources for all events taking place at the world's largest sporting competition.

The introduction of the website's Olympics news section comes as Rio de Janeiro is set to play host to the 2016 Summer Olympic Games over the coming weeks. In addition, One News Page's coverage of media outlets reporting on the sporting event has been broadened for news articles and video content alike.

"There are a number of big events coming our way this summer, and in order for our readers to catch up on the biggest stories from only the most reliable media sources available, we've introduced dedicated topic sections," advises Marc Pinter-Krainer, founder and CEO of One News Page.

The new Olympics news section is accessible free of charge at <http://www.onenewspage.com/s/olympics>.

Its debut follows the introduction of a popular movie reviews section earlier this year, which already features dozens of comprehensive guides to the latest films released on the big screen.

Similarly, a section dedicated to Pokémon Go, an augmented-reality smartphone game that is sweeping the globe, has been set up so that readers will be able to find the latest developments on the game and tips and tricks for trainers from only the best sources available.

One News Page was founded in 2008 and services markets in the English, German and Spanish languages across Europe, America, Asia and Australasia. In 2015 it served over 20 million users accessing its news portal websites.
